Wed. after X'mas

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Hilton Head Island, South Carolina

Organized in 1957, the present sanctuary was completed in 1965. The church has grown from a small group of worshipers who used the Chapel on Honey Horn Plantation from 1953-57. The Fellowship Hall, photographed, will serve as the sanctuary until the permanent sanctuary is built.

Wished we could meet again before Christmas Love almost New Year!

Hi You Super Duper Folks, How very good of You to Step in touch so faithfully & give us all the latest News. This is a lovely little church where we too attended X'mas eve & Sunday Service (also had Communion X'mas eve Service - Most impressive) They too made christmas Trees (but my did theirs look all pearl - but not as pretty as yours) Had to let You know & your work of art is on right hand side of front hall (1st thing we saw as we entered) Nice to have so much talent & ability all in one family. SMART Ida! Went to Savannah Mon. & stored the camper, hit late to leave the sunshine to come to snowy York. Thanks for being You! Hot Chocolate Ed! Love & Kisses
